Wine and Food

At Sixpenny our list is chosen with an emphasis on styles that compliment our food. This means a focus on light, fresh wines with texture and concentration of flavor.

Throughout the wine list we have highlighted a selection of wines from growers who we feel provide the most intelligent food pairing opportunities. Some are well known, others less so, but all are small producers who like us, are concerned with quality over quantity.

Our Champagne

We have chosen to pour Champagne Laherte Frères as our house champagne. Created in 1889, they own 10 hectares of premium champagne terroir, in 10 different villages. Laherte Frères is registered as a négociant-manipulant, but in reality this is true grower champagne, and all of the wines are estate-grown.

In the winery and the vineyard Aurélien Laherte favours labour-intensive traditional techniques. The results speak for themselves; beautiful champagne, concentrated, balanced and refreshing.

Weingut Tesch - Punk Rock Rieslings

Martin Tesch likes to do things his own way. After taking over the family estate in 2002 he defied convention by producing only dry wines and dramatically lowering his prices (and yields). In 2014 he shocked the German wine industry by voluntarily leaving the VDP (A national organization of the top German wine makers of which membership is highly coveted.) Terroir focussed rieslings, with backbone.
